April weather was a wonderful surprise for our ORVW group. It was lovely and even warm by Oregon standards. We did have a campfire on Thursday evening to welcome the early birds.

Our usual morning breakfasts were provided by our hostesses, Patti and Deb. We enjoyed hard boiled eggs, bagels, cream cheese, fruit, and cereal.

Everyone was eager for the days' activities.

Several adventurers (you know who you are, Patti, Jeanette, Rhoda, and Pam) found glass floats that had been placed on the grassy, driftwood area by the Gold Beach Chamber of Commerce. Many folks followed the beach trail and found their own treasures.

Turtle Rock RV Resort has a great variety of camping sites along a stream, as well as wooded areas. They also have cabins with hot tubs attached. Though we did not take advantage of these, we may have to consider this when we return.

Deb led the weekend's craft project. We made sewing kits from small canning jars with quilted tops. These are the perfect size to store in our rigs.

Patti surprised us all when she announced that anyone could start the line to the food for dinner. We usually start by a table number and many of us did not know should, "I go or wait." We did think of our good friend and fellow ORVW member, Dottie, who was unable to attend but I know she would have enjoyed the freedom to start the food line. We all had a good laugh as we tried to decide who should start first and as always, there was plenty of food.

On Friday evening, a short business meeting was called by our Vice President, Patti.

Immediately following the meeting, we enjoyed a birthday cake desert that Tully arranged for Linda's birthday. Linda shared the moment with fellow April birthday celebrants, MarJo and Deb.

One of our members, Shirley, gave us an update on her personal health journey. She reminded us about the importance of having a good doctor who will follow up on all leads and intuition. We were grateful for her insights.

Our traditional Sunday supper to a local restaurant was arranged by our hostesses at Spinners Restaurant in Gold Beach. The event was cheered by all attendees. A rating of triple A was given for both the dinner and the wonderful rally weekend.
