

ORVW Rally - August 12 – 15, 2016
Heceta Beach RV Park, Florence, OR

Fun is always the order of the day when ORVW women get together and the August rally could certainly attest to this!

Most rally attendees traveled over the coast range or from the North and South beach areas to meet in Florence, a sweet little town on the central Oregon coast. Much of Oregon was in high temperatures of 90 to 100 degrees, while we were met with cool, foggy coastal weather. I hope the gals who traveled from Colorado, California, and Eastern Oregon know that this is not typical Oregon coast weather!

Potlucks, games, puzzles, and evening campfires kept everyone entertained.

Since this one of our largest rallies of the year, around 40 attendees at any given moment, the Sunday evening dinner was divided between two restaurants. Both venues offered fast service, good food, and memorable meals.

It was good to hear from two Colorado RVW chapter members that they felt welcomed and at home with our chapter.

Dee & Dottie, our Florence hosts, had great suggestions for touring their hometown. Women took advantage of kayaking, exploring Old Town, checking out a local glass blowing shop, and walking the expansive shoreline.
